

MSI Viking Announces Partnership with QC Training Services

20 March 2024

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Duncan, SC 03/20/2024 - MSI Viking, a leading metrology company in North America, is pleased to announce a new partnership with QC Training Services, North America's leading Quality and Technical Training company. This exciting collaboration aims to expand the coverage of quality topics and provide industry players with valuable insights and training opportunities.

QC Training Services has a long-standing commitment to delivering high-quality training and consultation services. With over three decades of experience in on-site auditing and ISO implementation projects, their team of expert consultants has helped numerous organizations achieve their quality goals.

Anish Shah, Owner and President from QC Training Services, shared his thoughts on the partnership, stating, "We are thrilled to join forces with MSI Viking to further enhance our offerings and meet the diverse needs of our customers. This collaboration allows us to provide a broader portfolio of workshops with fresh and relevant content, ensuring our position as the most trustworthy training company in North America."

One of the key strengths of QC Training Services is their comprehensive coverage of quality topics. While their portfolio is broad, there are five areas that generate the most interest among industry players. These areas include Quality 101, Print Reading, Dimensional Measurement Tools, GD&T, and Root Cause Analysis. With their extensive expertise in these areas along with other technical and quality concepts, QC Training Services is well-equipped to provide valuable education and training.

Additionally, QC Training Services will be heavily promoting the Application of Metrology Fundamentals, a topic that holds great importance in the manufacturing process. This workshop provides participants with a basic understanding of metrology basics, lab practices, programming principles, training, and ongoing education.

The partnership with QC Training Services further strengthens MSI Viking's commitment to delivering top-quality training and consultation services. By joining forces, both organizations can leverage their expertise and provide industry players with unparalleled resources and support.

To learn more about QC Training Services and their value proposition, please contact Anish Shah at <https://qctraininginc.com/contact>.

MSI Viking and QC Training Services will also be participating together at the forthcoming Quality Show South, May 1-2, in Nashville, TN. This joint participation will be an excellent opportunity for industry professionals to engage with both organizations and gain valuable insights into the latest trends and developments in the field. Be sure to visit MSI Viking at Booth # 537 and take advantage of the networking and learning opportunities available.

For more information about the partnership and upcoming events, follow MSI Viking and QC Training Services on social media, visit their websites, or reach out to their representatives directly.

About QC Training Services:

QC Training Services is North America's leading and most trustworthy Quality and Technical Training company. With a mission to provide the broadest portfolio of workshops that includes fresh, relevant content and using different delivery methods, QC Training Services aims to meet the diverse needs of their customers. Their team of expert consultants has been providing on-site auditing and consultation since 1986, assisting in ISO implementation projects and ensuring the highest standards of quality in various industries.

About MSI Viking:

MSI Viking is the ultimate hub for professionals in the fields of metrology, quality control, and precision measurement. With a comprehensive range of products, services, and educational resources, MSI Viking empowers industries to achieve the highest standards of accuracy and efficiency. Whether you're seeking cutting-edge metrology solutions, expert guidance on quality assurance, or training to enhance your skills, MSI Viking is your trusted partner. Join our community and elevate your measurement capabilities with MSI Viking.

Contact:

Stefan Holt
Director of Marketing - MSI Viking sholt@msi-viking.com
8643086199